

AIDS Research/Vaccine Article

For this article please complete a page and a half reflection on the following. How can you apply what you learned in chapter one to this article? Examples would be ideas like ethics, statistical significance. You then would explain how the article contained these ideas. What are the long-term questions that can be created if the AIDS vaccine is successful on a large scale? An example of this would be, "How might people's perception/belief on unprotected sex change"? You would then explain your thought son this in your reflection.
