

Chapter 13

1. Does physiological arousal precede or follow an emotional experience? To experience emotions, must we consciously interpret and label them?
2. What physiological changes accompany emotions and do different emotions activate different physiological responses?
3. How do we communicate nonverbally? Are nonverbal expressions universally understood? Do facial expressions influence our experience of emotions?